"The frontier calls to those brave enough to answer - will you take up the challenge of the untamed West?"

The Gunslinger

A lone figure steps into the dusty street, spurs jingling with each measured step. Their hand hovers near the iron at their hip, eyes narrowed against the desert sun. When trouble comes calling, they answer with thunder and lightning.

Gunslingers are masters of firearms and quick-draw combat, embodying the spirit of the frontier. Whether they're bounty hunters tracking outlaws across the badlands, sheriffs keeping the peace in growing towns, or wandering drifters with mysterious pasts, gunslingers rely on their steady aim, lightning reflexes, and unshakeable nerve.

Core Features

Gunsmith

You can craft ammunition and maintain firearms. During a long rest, you can craft up to 20 bullets if you have access to appropriate materials. You can also repair damaged firearms and modify them with special attachments.

Grit

Your experience and force of personality in dire situations is represented by grit points. You start with 2 grit points and gain more as shown in the class table. You regain all expended grit points when you finish a long rest, and you regain 1 grit point when you score a critical hit with a firearm or reduce a hostile creature to 0 hit points with a firearm attack.

You can spend grit points to fuel various abilities:

- Precise Shot: When you make a firearm attack, you can spend 1 grit point to ignore half and three-quarters cover.
- Violent Shot: When you make a firearm attack, you can spend 1 grit point to add your proficiency bonus to the damage roll.

Quick Draw

You can draw or stow firearms without using your action or bonus action. Additionally, when rolling initiative, if you're not surprised, you can spend 1 grit point to act first in the initiative order for the first round of combat.

Fighting Style (2nd Level)

Choose one of the following fighting styles:

Gunfighter: You gain a +2 bonus to attack rolls you make with firearms.

Two-Gun Fighting: When you engage in two-weapon fighting with firearms, you can add your ability modifier to the damage of the second attack.

Dueling: When you are wielding a firearm in one hand with no other weapons, you gain a +2 bonus to damage rolls with that weapon.

Deadeye (2nd Level)

You can spend 1 grit point to gain advantage on your next firearm attack roll before the end of your turn.

Extra Attack (5th Level)

You can attack twice, instead of once, whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

Trick Shot (7th Level)

You learn to perform incredible shots that defy expectation. You can spend 2 grit points to attempt one of the following trick shots:

Disarming Shot: Target must make a Strength saving throw or drop one held object of your choice.

Ricocheting Shot: You can target a creature behind cover by bouncing your shot off surfaces.

Intimidating Shot: Target must make a Wisdom saving throw or be frightened until the end of their next turn.

Improved Quick Draw (9th Level)

When you roll initiative and aren't surprised, you can make one firearm attack against a creature within range as part of your initiative.

Lightning Reload (11th Level)

You can reload any firearm as a bonus action.

Improved Trick Shot (13th Level)

Your trick shots become more potent, and you can use them by spending only 1 grit point instead of 2.

Legendary Gunslinger (15th Level)

Your reputation precedes you. You have advantage on Intimidation checks, and when you enter a settlement, word of your presence spreads quickly.

Improved Deadeye (17th Level)

When you use Deadeye, you can spend 2 grit points instead of 1 to automatically score a critical hit if the attack hits.

True Grit (20th Level)

You regain 1 grit point at the start of each of your turns if you have no grit points remaining.

Gunslinger Archetypes

At 3rd level, you choose an archetype that shapes your approach to the gunslinger's path:

The Sheriff

Lawmen who protect settlements and uphold justice on the frontier.

The Bounty Hunter

Trackers who pursue dangerous criminals for profit and justice.

The Outlaw

Rogues who live outside the law, relying on quick wits and quicker draws.

The Desperado

Wandering gunfighters with mysterious pasts and deadly skills.

The Frontier Priest

With weathered hands clasped around a worn holy symbol and dust-covered boots that have walked countless miles of desert trail, the frontier priest stands as a beacon of hope in the lawless wilderness. Whether delivering salvation through gentle words or righteous fury, they carry the divine light into the darkest corners of the frontier.

Frontier Priests are divine spellcasters who minister to the spiritual needs of frontier communities and travelers. They might be circuit riders traveling between remote settlements, mission builders establishing churches in new territories, or warrior-priests who believe that sometimes salvation comes at the end of a rifle. Their faith is tested daily by the harsh realities of frontier life.

Core Features

Divine Domain

Choose one domain related to your deity's sphere of influence: Law, Protection, Redemption, or Vengeance. Your choice grants you domain spells and other features when you choose it at 1st level and again at 2nd, 6th, 8th, and 17th level.

Frontier Wisdom

Your experience ministering in harsh conditions grants you practical knowledge. You gain proficiency with the Survival skill if you don't already have it, and you can add double your proficiency bonus to Wisdom (Survival) checks made to find food, water, or shelter in wilderness areas.

Channel Divinity (2nd Level)

You gain the ability to channel divine energy directly from your deity. You start with two effects: Turn Undead and an effect determined by your domain. Some domains grant additional uses. You must finish a short or long rest to use Channel Divinity again.

Turn Undead: As an action, you present your holy symbol and speak a prayer censuring the undead. Each undead within 30 feet must make a Wisdom saving throw. If the creature fails, it is turned for 1 minute or until it takes damage.

Trail Blessing (3rd Level)

During a long rest, you can perform a special ritual to bless your traveling companions. Choose a number of creatures equal to your Wisdom modifier. For the next 24 hours, blessed creatures gain the following benefits:

- Advantage on saving throws against disease and poison
- Resistance to necrotic damage
- They regain 1 additional hit point when they spend Hit Dice during a short rest

Destroy Undead (5th Level)

When an undead fails its saving throw against your Turn Undead feature, the creature is instantly destroyed if its challenge rating is at or below a certain threshold, as shown on the class table.

Sanctuary of Faith (7th Level)

You can create a temporary sanctuary. During a long rest, you can sanctify a 30-foot radius area. Within this area:

- Undead and fiends cannot enter unless they succeed on a Charisma saving throw

- All creatures regain maximum hit points from Hit Dice spent during the rest
- The area is protected from extreme weather

The sanctuary lasts until you finish another long rest.

Divine Intervention (10th Level)

You can call on your deity to intervene on your behalf. As an action, describe the assistance you seek and roll d100. If you roll equal to or lower than your frontier priest level, your deity intervenes. The DM chooses the nature of the intervention. If successful, you can't use this feature again for 7 days. Otherwise, you can use it again after a long rest.

At 20th level, your call for intervention succeeds automatically, no roll required.

Bonus Proficiencies: Heavy armor, martial weapons

Voice of Authority: You can use your Channel Divinity to speak with divine authority. As an action, choose a creature within 30 feet. That creature must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw or be charmed by you until the end of your next turn or until it takes damage. While charmed, the creature must use its action to make one weapon attack against a target you designate.

Domain of Protection

You shield the innocent from the dangers of the frontier.

Domain Spells

- 3rd: Aid, Protection from Poison

You believe in second chances and seek to redeem the lost.

Domain Spells

- 1st: Cure Wounds, Shield of Faith
- 3rd: Calm Emotions, Hold Person
- 5th: Counterspell, Hypnotic Pattern
- 7th: Confusion, Freedom of Movement
- 9th: Hold Monster, Mass Cure Wounds

Merciful Touch: You can use your Channel Divinity to heal and calm. As an action, touch a creature to restore hit points equal to 2d6 + your frontier priest level. If the creature is charmed, frightened, or possessed, the condition ends.

Domain of Vengeance

You are the divine instrument of righteous retribution.

Domain Spells

- 1st: Bane, Hunter's Mark
- 3rd: Hold Person, Misty Step

- 9th: Hold Monster, Scrying

Bonus Proficiencies: Martial weapons

Divine Wrath: You can use your Channel Divinity to strike with divine vengeance. When you hit with a weapon attack, you can use Channel Divinity to deal maximum damage instead of rolling damage dice.

The Snake Oil Merchant

With a silver tongue and a wagon full of mysterious elixirs, the snake oil merchant rolls into town like a one-person traveling show. Their potions might be placebos, genuine miracles, or something in between - but their real magic lies in their ability to convince anyone of anything. Whether they're hustling marks in saloons or genuinely helping folks with their secret remedies, they're always ready with a smile, a story, and a bottle of "Doctor Johnson's Miracle Cure-All."

Snake Oil Merchants are charismatic rogues who blend showmanship, alchemy, and pure audacity. They might be traveling medicine shows, smooth-talking confidence artists, or genuine healers who've learned that presentation is half the cure. Their "magic" comes from an eclectic mix of folk remedies, psychological manipulation, and the occasional stroke of real genius.

Snake Oil Concoctions

Your signature ability is creating various elixirs, tonics, and "miracle cures." You know how to brew a number of different concoctions, each with different effects. Some are genuine remedies, others are clever placebos that work through suggestion and showmanship.

Concoctions Known: You start knowing 3 concoctions and learn more as shown on the class table.

Brewing: During a long rest, you can brew a number of concoctions equal to your proficiency bonus + your Charisma modifier. You must have alchemist's supplies and appropriate materials.

Core Features

Silver Tongue (1st Level)

Your gift for persuasion is legendary. You can add your Charisma modifier to any Deception or Persuasion check you make. Additionally, you can speak with any humanoid for at least 1 minute to learn one piece of information about them (their greatest fear, deepest desire, or a secret they're hiding).

Charlatan's Luck (2nd Level)

You have an uncanny ability to turn bad situations to your advantage. When you fail an ability check, attack roll, or saving throw, you can roll a Charlatan Die (shown on the class table) and add it to the result, potentially turning failure into success. You can use this feature a number of times equal to your proficiency bonus, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

Merchant's Eye (2nd Level)

You can assess the value and authenticity of items with a glance. You have advantage on Intelligence (Investigation) checks to determine if an item is genuine or counterfeit, and you can accurately estimate the value of any mundane item within 10% of its actual worth.

Expertise (3rd Level)

Choose two of your skill proficiencies. Your proficiency bonus is doubled for any ability check you make that uses either of the chosen proficiencies. At 10th level, you can choose two more skill proficiencies to gain this benefit.

Improved Concoctions (5th Level)

Your concoctions become more potent. When a creature drinks one of your concoctions, they regain hit points equal to your Charisma modifier (minimum 1) in addition to any other effects.

Traveling Medicine Show (7th Level)

During a long rest in a settlement, you can set up a traveling show to demonstrate your wares. Make a Charisma (Performance) check. On a result of 15 or higher, you earn gold pieces equal to your level $\times$ 10, and you gain advantage on all Charisma checks made in that settlement for the next 24 hours.

Master Charlatan (9th Level)

Your reputation precedes you, but so does your ability to reinvent yourself. You can spend 8 hours and 50 gold pieces to create a new identity, complete with documentation, references, and a believable backstory. This identity can withstand casual scrutiny but not deep investigation.

Snake Oil Mastery (11th Level)

You can create more powerful concoctions. When you brew concoctions during a long rest, you can choose to make any of them "premium quality." Premium concoctions have enhanced effects and last twice as long.

Legendary Reputation (13th Level)

Your fame has spread far and wide. In any settlement, there's a 50% chance that someone has heard of you (or one of your aliases). You have advantage on Charisma checks when your reputation would be helpful, but you also have disadvantage on Dexterity (Stealth) checks in settlements where you're known.

True Believer (15th Level)

Your conviction is so strong that even your placebos work. When you give a concoction to a willing creature, they gain the benefits even if the concoction is completely inert, as long as they believe it will help them.

Master Concoctions (17th Level)

You can create legendary concoctions that border on the miraculous. Once per long rest, you can create a Master Concoction that duplicates the effects of any spell of 3rd level or lower.

Greatest Show on Earth (20th Level)

You can spend 10 minutes giving a rousing performance to inspire others. All friendly creatures within 60 feet who can see and hear you gain the following benefits for 1 hour:

- Advantage on saving throws against being frightened
- +10 temporary hit points
- +2 bonus to attack rolls and damage rolls You can use this feature once per long rest.

Snake Oil Concoctions

Vigor Elixir: Grants +2 to Strength or Dexterity checks for 1 hour.

Truth Serum: Target must make a Wisdom saving throw or have disadvantage on Deception checks for 10 minutes.

Advanced Concoctions (Available at higher levels)

Miracle Healing Potion: Heals 3d4 + 3 hit points and grants immunity to disease for 24 hours.

Elixir of Clarity: Grants advantage on Wisdom and Intelligence checks for 1 hour.

Potion of Confidence: Grants +3 to Charisma checks and saving throws for 1 hour.

Remedy of Restoration: Removes all conditions and restores 1 level of exhaustion.

Fighting Style (2nd Level)

Archery: You gain a +2 bonus to attack rolls you make with ranged weapons.

Favored Enemy (2nd Level)

You have significant experience studying, tracking, hunting, and even talking to a certain type of creature commonly found on the frontier.

Choose a type of favored enemy: beasts, fey, humanoids, monstrosities, or undead. You have advantage on Wisdom (Survival) checks to track your favored enemies, as well as on Intelligence checks to recall information about them.

When you gain this feature, you also learn one language of your choice that is spoken by your favored enemies, if they speak one at all.

You choose one additional favored enemy, as well as an associated language, at 6th and 14th level. As you gain levels, your choices should reflect the types of monsters you have encountered on your adventures.

Primeval Awareness (3rd Level)

You can use your action and expend one use to focus your awareness on the region around you. For 1 minute per level, you can sense whether the following types of creatures are present within 1 mile of you (or within up to 6 miles if you are in your favored terrain): aberrations, celestials, dragons, elementals, fey, fiends, and undead. This feature doesn't reveal the creatures' location or number. You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Wisdom modifier (minimum once), and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

Extra Attack (5th Level)

You can attack twice, instead of once, whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

Land's Stride (8th Level)

Moving through nonmagical difficult terrain costs you no extra movement. You can also pass through nonmagical plants without being slowed by them and without taking damage from them if they have thorns, spines, or a similar hazard.

In addition, you have advantage on saving throws against plants that are magically created or manipulated to impede movement, such as those created by the entangle spell.

Hide in Plain Sight (10th Level)

You can spend 1 minute creating camouflage for yourself. You must have access to fresh mud, dirt, plants, soot, and other naturally occurring materials with which to create your camouflage.

Once you are camouflaged in this way, you can try to hide by pressing yourself up against a solid surface, such as a tree or wall, that is at least as tall and wide as you are. You gain a +10 bonus to Dexterity (Stealth) checks as long as you remain there without moving or taking actions. Once you move or take an action or a reaction, you must camouflage yourself again to gain this benefit.

You are also aware of the location of any invisible creature within 30 feet of you, provided that the creature isn't hidden from you and you aren't blinded or deafened.

Foe Slayer (20th Level)

You become an unparalleled hunter of your enemies. Once on each of your turns, you can add your Wisdom modifier to the attack roll or the damage roll of an attack you make against one of your favored enemies. The area is hidden from casual observation and provides resistance to extreme weather. Creatures resting in this area regain additional hit points equal to your Wisdom modifier.

The badge on their chest catches the sunlight as they stride down the dusty main street, boots ringing with authority on the wooden planks. Behind them walks a posse of determined deputies, ready to face whatever danger threatens their town. The marshal doesn't just enforce the law - they embody it, inspiring others to stand against chaos and bringing order to the wildest corners of the frontier.

Marshals are tactical leaders and lawmen who excel at coordinating groups and maintaining order. They might be town sheriffs organizing posses, federal marshals tracking criminals across territorial lines, or military officers leading frontier garrisons. Whether they're panning for nuggets in mountain streams, digging through ancient ruins for lost treasures, or following cryptic maps to hidden caches, they know that fortune favors the bold - and the prepared.

Prospectors are treasure hunters, miners, and explorers who specialize in finding valuable resources and hidden riches. Core Features

Wild Magic (1st Level)

Your magic is unpredictable and tied to the chaotic forces of the frontier. When you cast a spell of 1st level or higher, roll a d20. If you roll a 1, roll on the Wild Magic Surge table to create a magical effect.

Frontier Lore (1st Level)

You have learned the old stories and folk wisdom of the frontier. You gain proficiency in two of the following skills: History, Medicine, Nature, or Survival. You can add double your proficiency bonus to ability checks using these skills when they relate to frontier life, folk remedies, or local legends.

Hex Magic (2nd Level)

You learn to weave curses and blessings through your magic. As a bonus action, you can place a hex on a creature you can see within 60 feet. The target takes extra damage equal to your Hex Die when you hit them with an attack or when they fail a saving throw against your spells. The hex lasts for 1 minute, until the target drops to 0 hit points, or until you hex a different creature.

You can use this feature a number of times equal to your proficiency bonus, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

Witch's Intuition (2nd Level)

Your connection to the mystical forces of the frontier grants you supernatural insight. You can add your Wisdom modifier to Initiative rolls, and you have advantage on Wisdom (Insight) checks to detect lies or hidden motives.

Mystic Recovery (3rd Level)

During a short rest, you can recover some of your magical energy by communing with the wild magic around you. You regain one expended spell slot of 3rd level or lower. Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until you finish a long rest.

Mystic Senses (6th Level)

Your awareness of magical forces becomes acute. You can sense the presence of magic within 30 feet of you. If you sense magic in this way, you can use your action to see a faint aura around any visible creature or object that bears magic, and you learn its school of magic, if any.

Wild Magic Mastery (10th Level)

You have learned to better control the chaotic forces you wield. When you roll on the Wild Magic Surge table, you can choose to roll twice and use either result.

Mystic Arcanum (11th Level)

Your patron bestows upon you a magical secret called an arcanum. Choose one 6th-level spell from the frontier witch spell list as this arcanum. You can cast your arcanum spell once without expending a spell slot, and you regain the ability to do so when you finish a long rest.

At higher levels, you gain more mystic arcanum spells of your choice: one 7th-level spell at 13th level, one 8th-level spell at 15th level, and one 9th-level spell at 17th level. You regain all uses of your Mystic Arcanum when you finish a long rest.

Master of the Wild Magic (20th Level)

You have become one with the chaotic forces of magic itself. You can choose not to roll for Wild Magic Surges, and when you do choose to roll, beneficial effects are doubled in duration or effectiveness.

Witch Traditions

At 3rd level, you choose a tradition that shapes how you practice your magic:

Wise Woman

You focus on healing, protection, and nurturing magic.

Divine Grace (18th Level): You can cast Heal once without expending a spell slot. You regain this ability when you finish a long rest.

Curse of the Wild (10th Level): When you use your Hex Magic, you can also impose one of the following effects on the target:

- Their speed is reduced by 10 feet
- They have disadvantage on their next attack roll
- They take 1d4 poison damage at the start of their turn

Nature's Ally (14th Level): You can cast Conjure Woodland Beings once without expending a spell slot. You regain this ability when you finish a long rest.

Fate's Thread (10th Level): When you or an ally within 60 feet makes an attack roll, ability check, or saving throw, you can use your reaction to add your Hex Die to the roll. You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Wisdom modifier, regaining all uses on a long rest.

Oracle's Sight (14th Level): You can cast Scrying without expending a spell slot. You regain this ability when you finish a long rest.

Master of Destiny (18th Level): You can cast Foresight once without expending a spell slot. You regain this ability when you finish a long rest.

Spirit Sight (3rd Level): You can see and communicate with spirits and undead within 60 feet, even if they are invisible. Spirits are generally willing to provide basic information about their surroundings or recent events.

Spectral Guardian (6th Level): You can summon a spirit guardian as an action. The guardian appears within 30 feet and lasts for 10 minutes. It has AC 14, 20 hit points, and can make a spectral touch attack (+your spell attack bonus, 1d8 + your Wisdom modifier necrotic damage). You can use this feature once per long rest.

Medium's Trance (10th Level): You can enter a trance to communicate with distant spirits or the recently deceased. This works like the Commune spell but specifically contacts spirits. You can use this feature once per long rest.

Banish the Restless (14th Level): You can cast Banishment targeting undead without expending a spell slot. Against undead, the spell sends them permanently to their final rest rather than to another plane. You can use this feature once per long rest.

Lord of the Dead (18th Level): You can cast Control Undead (as Dominate Monster but only affecting undead) once without expending a spell slot. You regain this ability when you finish a long rest.

Firearms Rules & Equipment

The crack of gunpowder and the whistle of bullets have changed the frontier forever. These weapons of iron and fire can drop a man faster than any blade, but they demand respect, skill, and careful maintenance from those who wield them.

Firearm Proficiency

Firearms are martial ranged weapons. Characters who have proficiency with martial weapons automatically have proficiency with firearms. Some classes (like Gunslinger, Marshal, Frontier Priest) specifically grant firearm proficiency.

Firearm Properties

Firearms have several unique weapon properties:

Ammunition

All firearms require specific ammunition to function. Unlike arrows or bolts, bullets and cartridges are destroyed when fired and cannot be recovered.

Loading

A weapon with the loading property can fire only one piece of ammunition when you use an action, bonus action, or reaction to fire it, regardless of the number of attacks you can normally make. This property is ignored if you have a feature that ignores the loading property of weapons.

Misfire

When you make an attack roll with a firearm and roll a natural 1, the weapon misfires and becomes jammed. A jammed weapon cannot be fired until you spend an action to clear the jam. Some firearms have a greater misfire range.

Reload

A weapon with the reload property must be reloaded after firing a certain number of shots. Reloading requires an action unless you have a feature that changes this.

Scatter

When you make a ranged attack with a weapon that has the scatter property, you can target a point within the weapon's range. All creatures within a 10-foot cone extending from that point must make a Dexterity saving throw (DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Dexterity modifier). On a failed save, they take the weapon's damage. On a successful save, they take half damage.

Loud

Firearms create a loud noise when fired that can be heard up to 300 feet away in normal conditions.

Gatling Gun	2,000 gp	2d8 piercing	150 lbs.	Ammunition (bullets), burst fire, heavy, misfire (1-2), range (80/240), two-handed, mounted

Ammunition

Standard Ammunition

- Bullets (20): 2 gp, 2 lbs.
- Shotgun Shells (10): 2 gp, 2 lbs.

Special Ammunition

Special ammunition costs 5 times the normal price.

Silver Bullets: Effective against lycanthropes and some supernatural creatures. Deal normal damage but count as silver for purposes of overcoming resistance.

Cold Iron Bullets: Effective against fey creatures. Deal an extra 1d4 damage to fey.

Blessed Bullets: Ammunition blessed by a priest. Deal an extra 1d4 radiant damage to fiends and undead.

Explosive Bullets: Deal an extra 1d6 fire damage but have a misfire range of 1-2.

Armor-Piercing Bullets: Ignore 2 points of AC from armor (not natural armor or shields).

Hollow Point Bullets: Deal an extra die of damage but have disadvantage against targets wearing armor.

Advanced Firearm Rules

Rapid Fire

Some firearms can fire multiple shots quickly. When you take the Attack action with a firearm that has the reload property and you have multiple attacks, you can fire multiple shots before needing to reload, up to the weapon's reload number.

Burst Fire (Gatling Gun)

As an action, you can spray a 10-foot cube area within range with bullets. Each creature in the area must make a Dexterity saving throw (DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Dexterity modifier). On a failed save, a creature takes 2d8 piercing damage, or half as much on a successful one. This uses 10 bullets.

Dual Wielding Firearms

When dual wielding firearms, you can fire both weapons as part of your Attack action, but you have disadvantage on both attack rolls unless you have a feature that negates this penalty.

Cover and Firearms

Firearms are particularly effective against cover due to their penetrating power:

- Half cover provides only +1 AC against firearm attacks (instead of +2)
- Three-quarters cover provides only +3 AC against firearm attacks (instead of +5)

Critical Hits

When you score a critical hit with a firearm, roll all damage dice three times instead of twice (representing the devastating effect of a well-placed shot).

Explosives

Dynamite

Dynamite can be lit and thrown as an improvised weapon. It explodes at the end of your turn if thrown that turn, or after 1d4 rounds if the fuse was lit but not thrown. All creatures within 10 feet of the explosion must make a DC 15 Dexterity saving throw, taking 3d6 fire damage on a failed save, or half as much on a successful one.

Blasting Powder

Used for mining operations. One stick of blasting powder can clear a 5-foot cube of rock or earth when properly placed and detonated.

Firearm Modifications

Skilled gunsmiths can modify firearms to improve their performance. Each modification increases the weapon's cost by the amount listed and may require specific expertise.

Improved Rifling (+100 gp)

Increases the weapon's range by 50%.

Hair Trigger (+75 gp)

Reduces the misfire range by 1 (minimum 0, but weapon gains the finesse property if it doesn't have it).

Extended Barrel (+50 gp)

Increases damage die by one step (d6 to d8, d8 to d10, etc.) but weapon gains the two-handed property if it doesn't have it.

Speed Loader (+100 gp)

Reduce reload time to a bonus action.

Scope (+150 gp)

Double the weapon's long range and gain advantage on attack rolls against targets more than 30 feet away.

Silencer (+200 gp)

Reduces the noise of firing to 60 feet instead of 300 feet.

Hair Trigger Safety (+25 gp)

Eliminates misfire on natural 1s, but weapon misfires on 1-2 when shooting rapidly (making multiple attacks in one turn).

Firearm Maintenance

Firearms require regular maintenance to function properly:

Daily Maintenance

Spending 10 minutes cleaning and maintaining firearms prevents misfire range from increasing due to poor conditions.

Poor Conditions

In dusty, wet, or extremely dirty conditions, firearms' misfire range increases by 1 after each combat encounter until properly cleaned.

Broken Weapons

A weapon that misfires three times without being properly cleaned becomes broken and cannot be fired until repaired by a gunsmith (cost: 25% of weapon's value, 1 day of work).

Gunsmith Tools

Gunsmith's Kit (75 gp, 8 lbs.)

Contains tools for maintaining and repairing firearms, including:

- Small hammers and files
- Gun oil and cleaning rods
- Spare springs and screws
- Bullet molds
- Powder measures

Proficiency with gunsmith's tools allows you to:

- Craft ammunition (20 bullets per day with raw materials costing 1 gp)
- Repair misfired weapons (10 minutes)
- Install modifications (time varies by modification)
- Craft simple firearms (with appropriate workshop and time)

Powder Horn (5 gp, 1 lb.)

Contains enough gunpowder to make 20 bullets when combined with lead and bullet molds.

Bullet Molds (10 gp, 2 lbs.)

Used to create bullets from raw lead. Can produce 20 bullets per hour with appropriate materials.

Notable Firearms

"Peacemaker" Revolver

Rare firearm (requires attunement) This legendary revolver is said to bring justice to the frontier. It has the following properties:

- +1 to attack and damage rolls
- Misfire only on natural 1 when attacking creatures of evil alignment
- Once per day, you can declare a shot to be a "peace shot." If it hits, the target must make a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw or be charmed for 1 minute

"Thunderbolt" Rifle

Rare firearm (requires attunement) This rifle crackles with barely contained energy:

- +1 to attack and damage rolls
- Deals lightning damage instead of piercing
- Once per day, you can fire a shot that creates a 30-foot line of lightning (DC 15 Dex save, 3d6 lightning damage)

"Judge" Shotgun

Uncommon firearm This shotgun is favored by lawmen:

- When using the scatter property, creatures of chaotic evil alignment have disadvantage on their saving throw
- Can fire both barrels at once (use scatter on two adjacent 10-foot cones, but weapon becomes jammed after firing)

Firearm Feats

Gunslinger

Prerequisite: Proficiency with firearms

- Increase your Dexterity score by 1, to a maximum of 20
- You ignore the loading property of firearms
- When you roll a 1 on an attack roll with a firearm, you can reroll the die and must use the new result

Sharpshooter (Modified)

Prerequisites: Proficiency with firearms

- Attacking at long range doesn't impose disadvantage on your firearm attack rolls
- Your firearm attacks ignore half and three-quarters cover
- Before you make a firearm attack, you can choose to take a -5 penalty to the attack roll. If the attack hits, you add +10 to the attack's damage

Quick Draw

Prerequisite: Proficiency with firearms

- You can draw or stow firearms without using your object interaction
- When you roll initiative, you can draw a firearm and make one attack with it before anyone else acts (if you're not surprised)

- You have advantage on initiative rolls when you have a firearm in hand or readily accessible

Dual Wielder (Firearms)

Prerequisite: Proficiency with firearms

- You can engage in two-weapon fighting with firearms
- You can draw or stow two firearms when you would normally draw or stow only one
- When dual wielding firearms, you don't have disadvantage on attack rolls

Black Powder and Crafting

Black Powder

Black powder is the key component for all firearm ammunition and explosives:

- Black Powder (1 lb.): 10 gp
- Required for crafting bullets (1 lb. makes powder for 100 bullets)
- Highly explosive - takes 2d6 fire damage per pound if ignited

Crafting Firearms

Creating firearms requires expertise, time, and materials:

Simple Firearms (Derringer, basic pistol): 2 weeks, 75% of market cost in materials, DC 15 gunsmith check
Complex Firearms (Revolvers, rifles): 4 weeks, 75% of market cost in materials, DC 20 gunsmith check

Advanced Firearms (Gatling gun): 12 weeks, 80% of market cost in materials, DC 25 gunsmith check

Improvised Firearms

Characters can attempt to create crude firearms in desperate situations:

- Pipe Gun: 1 day, 10 gp materials, DC 15 gunsmith check
- Stats: 1d6 piercing, misfire (1-3), reload (1), range (20/60)
- Breaks permanently on any misfire

This comprehensive firearms system captures the feel of the Old West while maintaining game balance and providing interesting tactical options for players!
